School Bonds Win By Huge Margin In Centerville

By a landslide margin of 213 to 2, Centerville School District voters Friday voted to float a $169,000 schol bond issue and by 208 to 3 to accept $395,000 State aid.

Only $77,000 of the bonds can be sold now because of assessed value restrictions. Approximately half of the $77,000 will be used to unfreeze $165,000 State aid with which to complete the Thornton Avenue School.

School Supt. Tom Maloney said work will start on six classrooms and a combination cafeteria-auditorium as soon as contracts can be let.

Some time later this year, Maloney said, the school district will use more bond money to buy a 10-acre site for a third elementary school for Glenmoor tract. The State has already approved the purchase.

Balance of the school bonds will be held in reserve for sale when assessed values permit it.

Maloney said 215 out of approximately 1400 eligible voters went to the polls.

HILLVIEW SCHOOL 'SECESH' THREAT

Hillview Crest, "ninety-nine per cent of us," wants to join Hayward, and even to enter the Hayward school system, a homeowners' spokesman told a Decoto Chamber of Commerce planning meeting Tuesday night.

Peter Lojo protested further industry being established along the Southern Pacific tracks, where he says, it would disturb Hillview Cresters.

R. D. Rodenberger, S.P. Official, said" the railroad was here first," but Lojo persisted, then told Decotans the nearby tract wants to join Hayward, "even the schools." Hillview is now in the Decoto school system.

County planning staff members suggested that Decoto's business district be confined to E Street or Tenth Street, as at present; and that future development be channeled along the highway.

Decoto Chamber President Manuel Hidalgo said a proposed "master plan" for the town will be on exhibit, starting this week, in the local post office.

Local School Budgets Up $253,015 As More Teachers Hired for Influx

Public education will cost a quarter-million dollars more in Washington Township during the coming year, according to budgets of nine elementary schools and Washington Union High School, which were released this week.

The budgets, announced by County Supt. of Schools Vaughn D. Seidel, total $1,594,535. The 1952-53 budget was $1,341,520, and in 1951-52 it was $1,160,137.

The increase—$253,015—reflects a boost in enrollment of nearly 500 pupils during the year. Most of the extra money will go for salaries of new teachers and facilities to care for the influx.

Of the amount sought, around $650,000 will come from local property taxes, and the balance from State subsidies. Last year, $559,000 came out of local taxes.

Hearings on the school budgets will be held next week. Washington Hi trustees will conduct theirs next Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the school board room.

Breakdown of the budgets, by districts:

WASHINGTON UNION HIGH

1953-54 budget: $445,725, compared to an outlay of $408,196 last year. Teachers' salaries are up $39,000, at $220,473, accounting for most of the increase.

District taxes are estimated at $247,500, against $238,687 last year. But about $40,000 will be taken from the reserve to hold them that low.

LIONS WANT YOUTH CENTER BUILT HERE

The service club has invited chambers of commerce and other civic organizations to send representatives to a meeting September 5 in the International Kitchen to discuss means of promoting such a center.

A covering letter from President Arthur Belshaw warns that youngsters have no such facility, and that recent growth here makes one imperative.

Towns to Vote on Industry Members

In an atmosphere charged with inter-town jealousy, the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce on Monday finally voted:

1. To toss the issue of broadening its membership back to eight individual chambers of commerce, and

2. To let an eight-man committee headed by Vernon Ellsworth pick a new secretary-manager.

Party-lines on opening membership to industries, businesses and individuals were sharply drawn between delegates from Newark and Centerville, with the Newarkers apparently favoring the status quo, which permits only the eight town chambers of commerce to belong.

The same two towns were divided earlier in a committee session over selection of a secretary-manager to replace Eugene Manning, who resigned July 1. Centerville wanted Dan Irwin, retired railroad executive and former city councilman of Portola. Newark—joined by Decoto—wanted Tony Demello, stock salesman for its bank.

Neither candidate had been interviewed by the entire committee, however.

Ellsworth's committee was to meet again late last night in an effort to choose between the two men. Prior to Monday's meeting, the committee failed to make a recommendation on whether to hire a fulltime manager, a parttime one, or whether to share a secretary with Supervisor Chester Stanley. Noting that the supervisors have—in effect—withdrawn their $1800-a-year subsidy to the Township Chamber, the Ellsworth Committee suggested instead that someone be found to work for what the Chamber could offer—about $600 a year, plus possible expenses if the subsidy is restored.

Treasurer Harry Weber and Louis Cardoza, both from Centerville, argued that the eight towns should concentrate on a central, Township chamber, slanted to attract industry. Towns could still have organizations, "operating as merchants' committees," Weber suggested. But he asked that membership be opened to industries and individuals.

C. W. Chrysler of Niles spoke favoring a modified directorate, with one delegate from each town, plus some elected at large from the ranks of business, farming and industry. Only in this way, he warned, could large factories and farmers be prompted to join the group.

Paul Gygax of Newark contended that the chamber "has been doing a good job," and that its system of representation should be left unchanged. Gordon Cotton, also of Newark, agreed and at-

Niles Chamber Adopts Town Plan

A master plan for future growth of Niles was adopted unanimously on Tuesday by the Niles Chamber of Commerce, and was forwarded to the Alameda County Planning Commission.

The plan in fact was prepared several months ago by the commission, which asked that the chamber endorse it, or amend it, so that the commission can be guided in planning future land uses.

Sole amendment by the chamber was the request that property north of the Southern Pacific tracks, east of Pacific States Steel mill, be held for industrial development.

Vernon Ellsworth said "several residents" in the area further asked that a strip along Highway 9, on the north edge, be held out for commercial structures. This was granted by the chamber.

The plan would make no drastic changes in present land uses, except that property around the International Kitchen and the gravel pits near the railroads south of Alameda Creek would be set aside for industry.

Seek 35-Mile Speed Zone At Niles

A 35-and-45-mile speed limit through Niles was demanded Tuesday by the local chamber of commerce.

Dr. T. C. Wilson pointed out (1) that "Hayward has a 45-mile limit now as far south as Valle Vista," and (2) that by his count, 14 highway deaths have taken place on Highway 9 near Niles in the past few years.

"We have enough population," he declared. "Pedestrians have to cross a 55-mile zone, and the yellow blinker at the Canyon doesn't slow cars down."

Dr. Wilson asked:

1. That the highway from Sullivan Underpass to Orchard Drive be made a 35-mile zone.

2. That a 45-mile zone be extended north to King Avenue and south to Morrison Canyon Road.

On his motion, members voted to send a request to the State Division of Highways.

ASK NAME FOR ROAD

A request that the Mission-Irvington Road be renamed "Mission Way" was relayed this week to the County Planning Commission by vote of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce.

Voting on the issue was unanimous.

WHERE'S THE FIRE?

Township's Apricot Harvest is Periled by Cannery Workers' Strike

Growers Rush Fruit To Dehydrators

A statewide cannery strike hit Washington Township Tuesday, threw 950 persons out of work, and threatened to ruin one-third of the Township's $2,000,000 apricot harvest.

About 6000 tons of the area's bumper 17,000-ton crop was still on the trees when the wage dispute between the Cannery Workers Union and the California Processors & Growers reached the walkout stage.

F. E. Booth Cannery, Centerville, and Alaco Cannery, Decoto, both members of CP&G, were shut down by pickets. The canneries normally would take fruit until next Monday, then start on the out-of-county peach crop.

With the $100-a-ton 'cots ripening on the trees, the situation today was past the point where canners could take the crop. Thus most growers were frantically contracting to take their apricots to dehydrators as far away as Healdsburg.

Local drying yards ran rapidly out of space and trays, and the supply of 'cot cutters grew short, making it imperative to get the fruit away this week if the balance of the crop is to be saved.

Federal concilators succeeded in getting both the union and the CP&G into negotiations again, too late to help here. The union is asking a 10-cent hourly raise.

ACRES OF GOLD — Depending how you look at it. This huge display of apricot drying trays on the Manuel Freitas ranch, west of Centerville, holds thousands of dollars worth of drying golden fruit. More than 10 acres on the orchard are covered with trays this week at the harvest hits its peak in Washington Township. Freitas family may be discerned in the background, dwarfed by the trays. FINAL OKEH FOR IRVINGTON PLANT

County Supervisors last week removed the last obstacle to construction of a $200,000 battery-separator factory near Irvington.

The supervisors confirmed a Planning Commission okeh for the Bay Cities Separator Company to build the plant on Highway 17, near Prune Avenue.

It will consist of the factory and also a planing mill, according to N. M. Baker, official of the San Francisco firm. Baker said work probably will start as soon as a railroad spur track is built.

The company plans to move its entire San Francisco operation to Irvington, and will employ somewhere between 30 and 40 men.

GLENMOOR HOMES OPEN 14 OUTSTANDING 'RANCHOS' THIS WEEK AT CENTERVILLE

One of the largest displays of fine new homes ever shown by a building organization in the East Bay is now being held in Glenmoor Gardens, southwest of Centerville. Sponsored by Glenmoor Homes, fourteen modern ranch-style homes are open for public inspection. While all have the general ranch home appearance, different floor plans and a wide variety of exterior styling makes each of the homes unique and distinct.

Plans for development of Glenmoor Gardens, as announced by the organization's president, James R. Meyer, call for a complete 1000 home community. Included in the plans are schools, parks, shops and stores, playgrounds, tennis courts, swimming pool and community center building.

Overall design of the community, according to Meyer, is the result of several years of study of projects of similar nature across the nation. Each of these was analyzed to determine whether its various facilities met the long range needs of its population. Results of these studies are incorporated in the overall plan of Glenmoor Gardens. Almost 100 of these better-type homes already have been sold. ....

Says Meyer:

"We provide 18 basic floor plans for selection by the home buyer. Basic features of these plans offer choice of three or four bedrooms. All homes have 1½ baths, dens or rumpus rooms, sliding glass walls opening to built-in, sheltered patios, electric garbage disposals, fireplaces, hardwood floors and sliding door wardrobe closets.

"All homes are built on quarter-acre lots. Interior walls are plastered but all homes make liberal use of wall paneling in such woods as mahogany, ash, knotty pine and birch. Hardwoods — principally birch and mahogany—are used in kitchen cabinets to provide easy maintenance and introduce bright and cheerful decorative backgrounds."

Other features include perimeter heating, weather-stripping and insulation.

MISSION ZONING NOW UNDER STUDY

Mission San Jose's request for protection against industrial and undesirable commercial encroachment was referred on Monday to the County Planning Commission staff for action.

In a special meeting, commissioners sent a zoning request from Chamber of Commerce Secretary Jacob Koelsch to the staff, with orders to study it and report when a formal notice of intent to zone can be issued.

The chamber asked that commercial development be limited to the immediate vicinity of Vallejo Street, and that industries be excluded altogether.

Lofty Quest for Uranium

EVEN MORE dramatic than the gold rush days is America's quest for uranium ore, now under way high on the rugged Colorado Plateau. At Uravan, below, ore mined in the Rockies is refined. Town was named for "ura" in uranium, "van" in vanadium.

ONCE PROCESSING IS completed, uranium, below, has a black, sticky form. Drying reduces the material to powder.

TWO WOMEN FINED AS PROSTITUTES

Two Marysville women were fined $100 apiece for prostitution Tuesday in Centerville justice court, the first such cases in the Township in more than a year.

Venus DeWees, 21, and Frances Garcia, 24, were arrested by deputy sheriffs last Wednesday in a labor camp near Centerville. Both were accused under the "dissolute vagrant" act.

Held in default of $500 bail apiece, both appeared again before Judge E. A. Quaresma. He gave them their alternative of fines or 20 days in jail. At a late hour, neither had paid the fine.

Social-Service Lack in South County Schools Cited by Youth Committee

A critical look at the schools of Southern Alameda County is provided in the report of the county's Committee for the Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency, released this week.

No school was singled out, but the committee said:

1. More special classes for handicapped children are needed.

2. Too many 'teen-agers are dropping out of school.

3. The committee is "concerned" about "absence of effective liaison between school and home."

4. School boards ought to add 5 cents to the tax rate, as Decoto has done, to develop a community recreation program.

The education survey which produced the report was conducted by a sub-committee which included Mrs. Raymond Rodrigues of Centerville, Mrs. W. E. Dutra of Newark, and Mrs. Eloy Cardoza of Decoto.

The survey has been under way since September, 1951. Another section devoted to welfare, recreation, health and law enforcement was released in April, 1952.

The survey was authorized by the Board of Supervisors, in order to gather facts about rapidly-growing Southern Alameda County. Other topics covered in the final half of the committee's work were: (1) civic organization activities, (2) youth employment, (3) church work.

Some of the findings of the education subcommittee:

1. In only two high schools do teachers and administrators meet to discuss test reports and plan guidance for brighter students.

2. None of the schools have any program to fit unsociable or isolated children into a group.

3. One high school indicated it wanted no part of family or sex education, and all others were exceedingly wary of it.

4. Only welfare service performed was a free-milk program at two of the high schools.

Among the five elementary schools which provide classes for mentally retarded children are Newark and Alvarado. The committee said others are needed in Decoto and LaVista, just north.

Youngsters are leaving school too early, the report stated, (1) because most high school programs "are geared to suit the average youth, with little consideration for those who fall slightly below average," leading them to become discouraged, and (2) because modern college entrance requirements impose too-rigid grade standards on high schools, also handicapping students who are not mentally endowed for college.

The survey concluded that high schools should offer more "shop" and commercial courses for the vocationally-minded.

Teachers should make more calls at homes, the committee added, to see why pupils aren't doing better work.

The committee also questioned that all youngsters be required to attend school until they are 18, as provided in State law.

Two additional needs cited were:

1. A community child-guidance clinic for mentally-retarded youngsters, and

2. Job-counseling and placement services at the school level to develop good work habits, and channel students into the field for which they are best fitted.

Most of the recommendations were directed to the Supervisors, the county Superintendent of Schools, and trustees of various school districts.

A youth employment subcommittee, which included Mrs. Edward O'Mara of Newark, recommended that various communities organize some form of central employment service for youngsters.

A church-activity survey, in which Mrs. Florence Myrick of Centerville aided, declined to make any recommendations, but noted that churches here are very active in promoting recreational and social events.

Commenting on Washington Township, the report concluded:

"The development of housing tracts in Decoto and Newark, along with those being contemplated in Irvington, Centerville, and Mission San Jose, will continue to effect a great change in the character and nature of the population. It is likely that this increase in population will create a demand on service and on the local wealth without bringing in a proportionate increase in money.

"A severe problem and one of the principal factors holding back the continued development of the township is the lack of adequate transportation. Only one commercial bus line serves the area. Its run is infrequent insofar as schedule is concerned. There is no local train service. The main state highway running north to Oakland and south to San Jose is only two lanes wid and very overcrowded. The completion of the freeway may in some measure alleviate this problem. It will certainly hasten the influx of new residents.

"Primarily, because of transportation difficulties, many residents of this area prefer to trade in San Jose, Santa Clara County, or in Palo Alto or San Mateo County. Driving is easier, parking is easier and stores are available."

BATTERY C'S 1ST DRILL TUESDAY

Washington Township's own National Guard unit will have its first drill here Tuesday night, it was announced today.

Officers and men of Battery C, 629th Field Artillery, will hold their initial session starting at 8 o'clock in the new armory, at the end of Alder Avenue, one-half mile north of Centerville.

The meeting also will mark approval of the outfit by U. S. Army inspectors. Battery C will be officially accepted as part of the first-line Army reserves, according to its new commanding officer, Captain O. J. Beaudin Jr. of San Lorenzo.

Also on hand for the ceremony will be Brig. Gen. Charles F. White of Stockton, commanding all National Guard artillery in Northern California. Gen. White will bring his staff with him, including Col. William J. Lange, executive officer; and Lt. Col. Robert Quick, plans and training. Also will be Lt. Col. G. S. Nixon of Niles, commanding the 629th, whose present headquarters are in Alameda.

Formal ceremonies dedicating the Armory will be held in the near future. They must wait however, on completion of a $6000 remodeling job at the armory, a former ice house. Half this work already has been accomplished by the owner, Italo Orsetti of Centerville.

Core of the new unit will be provided by (1) a group of Township 'teen-age youths who joined prior to summer camp last June, and (2) a few experienced noncoms from Hayward and San Leandro who belonged to Battery C in Alameda, from where it was moved.

Capt. Beaudin however is seeking (1) more men, (2) more noncoms, (3) more young officers, who must have seen previous service, however. He will interview candidates Tuesday night.

Guardsmen may complete their military service at home, and are draft-exempt. Part of the U.S. Army, they receive full army pay for one night's duty per week.

TOWNSHIP CHAMBER DEBATES MEMBERS

tacked the suggestion made in Centerville several weeks ago that the Township Chamber is "a sewing circle."

"Centerville wants us all to incorporate," Cotton charged. "One man there took it upon himself to say Decoto and Newark ought to be educated. I say not all the intelligence is vested in Centerville.'

Ken Foster, also of Newark, said the most harmful thing that ever happened to the Township Chamber "was when we started to talk about consolidating school districts and fire districts."

Cotton asserted "we can get more done through our town organizations" than through central action, adding:

"Why go out on a limb (for a more powerful chamber) when we have the resources of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce (to attract industry)?"

Borghi's motion to allow the committee to pick a new secretary-manager ended the discussion. It passed without dissent.

Delegates will take the membership issue home during the coming month. Then presumably a vote will be taken at the next Township Chamber session August 24. However another vote at the September meeting will be required before any change in by-laws can be final.

'INDUSTRY SURVEY, THEN VOTE': NILES

Niles declined to vote on a Township Chamber of Commerce suggestion on broadening Township Chamber membership this week, and instead tossed the issue back to the parent organization.

Discussion of the plan to open membership to individuals and industries followed a report by Secretary Vernon Ellsworth at Tuesday's meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce. Said President C. W. Chrysler:

"The Township Chamber can't do much until we divorce it from these petty local complaints by town chambers. Besides, we need more money to operate properly, and the industries can supply it."

However Dr. T. C. Wilson declared:

"I don't see industries clamoring to get in. I move the Township Chamber make a survey first, of how many industries they can get to join, and then tell us."

After a brief discussion, his motion was carried.

AUTO COUNTS JAIL MOTHER AND SON

Mother and son from Warm Springs were in the law's toils this week, in a pair of unrelated incidents involving autos.

Mrs. Irene Fitzgerald, 39, was arrested for drunken driving over the week-end near her home. Shortly afterward, he son, James, 21, reported his car stolen, to the Highway Patrol. Officers checked it out, found it had been repossessed.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was held for drunken driving, and James for rendering a false report. She will be tried here Tuesday, and he will appear in court August 11.

APRICOT CUTTING JOBS STILL OPEN

With apricot harvest now at peak, demand continues strong for women and teen-aged children to cut apricots in farm dry yards in the Niles - Centerville - Irvington area, the Centerville Farm Labor office of the State Department of Employment announced today. Picking of Moorpark variety is just getting underway, and demand for cutters is expected to be active for two or three weeks more.

Cutters seeking jobs are asked to apply at the free Farm Labor Office at 399 South Main Street, Centerville, just north of Washington Union High School, phone Centerville 8-8939, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The office will be open this Saturday, 7 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Children under 18 years should get work permits from their schools. Although some yards will employ children of 12 years and over, if they hold a work permit and are accompanied by an adult.

The labor office has asked that growers who complete their drying operations early to notify the office of the date when they expect to release their cutting crew, so that transfer of released crews to growers needing cutters can be arranged without loss of time.

NEWARK CLERK

Examinations are scheduled for the job of postal clerk and carrier at Newark, according to Postmistress Julia Harris. Candidates should contact her at the postoffice.

NEW CHARGE FOR PUBLIC SHOOTING

At the suggestion of California duck hunters, the Fish and Game Commission has put the State's public shooting grounds on a self-supporting basis with the inauguration of a $2 entry fee.

The charge system will be inaugurated this fall on nine State-operated waterfowl management areas as part of a plan of the Department of Fish and Game to put the once-free hunting grounds on a "pay as you go basis." The former charge of $5 for use of blinds will be abolished, except on the Imperial area. Hunters under the age of 16 years will be admitted free when accompanied by adults.

Following a series of public hearings held throughout the State, the Fish and Game Commission authorized the new procedure at its June meeting in Los Angeles.

Exceptions to the new ruling are the Madelin Plains and Honey Lake areas in Lassen County, where local sportsmen are expected to assist in the operation to offset their free use of the shooting grounds. The newly-created Napa Marsh area near Napa will have a seasonal charge of $3.

The exceptions for the Imperial, Honey Lake and Madeline Plains management areas were inserted upon pleas made by local sportsmen during the hearings. All are subject to revised regulations as the result of studies now being made by the Commission.

Commission President William J. Silva, who acted as chairman at several of the hearings, revealed that the cost to the State of accommodating one hunter for one day on the average area amounted to $1.87.

Roderick Paces Township Softball Stars to 6-3 Win Over Shipyards

By BOB HIRD

Washington Township All-Stars, made up of top players from the six teams in the local softball league, handed San Francisco Naval Shipyard a 6-3 loss Friday night on the local diamond.

The All-Stars, picked by the managers of the ball clubs, proved their bosses' selections were good ones.

The San Franciscans opened the scoring in the top of the first, putting together two hits and two errors for two runs. V.F.W.'s Ted Garcia was the victim of the early scoring.

V.F.W.'s First Sacker Stan Roderick gave the All-Stars a 2-2 in the bottom of the first as he banged out a two-run homer.

Consecutive singles by Garcia, Don Lemos and Roderick gave the All-Stars a 3-2 margin in the second stanza.

Leftfielder Dick Silver whacked a two-bagger in the fourth with a runner on second to stretch the All-Star lead to 4-2.

The locals added two more in the fifth to sew up the contest.

Garcia received credit for the win.

9-RUN FRAME TOO MUCH FOR L&V

Breaking loose for nine runs in the sixth frame, the Warm Springs softballers handed the L & V Club a 14-3 lacing last Wednesday on the local diamond.

The Warm Springers touched Righthander Lee Telles for a total of 16 hits. L & V took an early first inning lead of 1-0 as Shortstop Katie Schramm doubled a runner on second.

The Warm Springers put together four consecutive singles in the third to go out front, 2-1. Weldon Pine, Frank Romero, Manuel Azevedo and Feliciano Galvan connected.

Then the winners found the range in the wild sixth as they banged out eight basehits for the nine big tallies. Biggest blows in the inning were two baggers by Azevedo and Feliciano Galvan.

The winners picked up three more in the seventh on two hits and two bases on balls.

WILDLIFE SHOW AT SCOUT JAMBOREE

The 50,000 Boy Scouts who returned last week from the National Jamboree at Santa Ana got a full-scale demonstration of methods used to maintain California's fish and wildlife.

An extensive wildlife study area was constructed by the California Department of Fish and Game on the once-barren hills of the Irvine Ranch. All facilities were available for issuance of Boy Scout merit badges on conservation.

Department personel, under Regional Manager John F. Janssen, built a full-scale quail "guzzler" and a life-size farm fish pond at the Orange County campsite.

The "guzzler" is similar to those installed by the Department in semi-arid regions to provide a year-round supply of stored rain water for quail and other wildlife. The farm pond is a carbon copy of many built and stocked under departmental guidance throughout the State.

BEARCATS HUMBLE CROCKETT, 3-1, IN PITCHERS' DUEL

By TONY ROGERS

Frank Romero, pitcher for Centerville's Bearcats, limited a dangerous Crockett Merchants nine to five scattered bingles Sunday and gave his teammates a 3-1 victory at Crockett.

Romero outlasted John Paganini of the Merchants, who likewise doled out a quintet of safeties while fanning three. However, three of Paganini's four walks cost him the game.

In the second inning, Paganini issued passes to Dutra and Alameda. Then Romero bunted to the first baseman, who tossed toward second to squeeze Alameda, but the ball hit the base umpire and bounced into left field, allowing Dutra to score.

In the fifth, Nick Romero walked, reached second on a passed ball, was sacrificed to third by Faria, and scored on Roderick's single into left.

In the ninth, the 'Cats got their final run on a three-Romero parlay, with an assist from Rebiejo. Pitcher Romero hit safely, Ed Romero sacrificed him to second, Rebiejo singled him to third, and Nick Romero batted him home.

Crockett had been beaten only once before this season. Next Sunday's game will be at Centerville.

Sunday's game will be against the classy E. Berkovich Club of San Francisco.

Slays Buck With Arrow Near Niles

Calvin Jibson, 28-year-old Niles Canyon contractor's employee, made an unusual hobby pay off with 90 pounds of venison last Saturday.

Jibson, with bow and arrow, was stalking deer on the south slopes of the steep canyon, less than half a mile from thickly-settled subdivisions.

State game laws, encouraging archers, permit a 10-day "preseason" season for bow-and-arrow hunters, and this started Saturday.

Jibson went out at 2 o'clock. At three, he walked onto a four-point buck standing in a draw not 40 yards away. He drew his bow and shot the buck in the head with a steel-tipped arrow.

The unusual shot penetrated the deer's nostrils to enter the brain. Jibson lugged out his quarry. It weighed 90 pounds.

Jibson has been hunting with bow-and-arrow for the past six years. Formerly an inveterate rifle-shot, he now scorns gunpowder.

The blonde huntsman manufactures his own bows from strips of glass and laminated maple. This is the third buck he has slain with arrows, but the first around Niles.

Jibson and fellow-archery enthusiasts are itching to start a club here. His victory over the deer may prove the beginning of one.

Water Report Due

Report on future plans of the Alameda County Water District will be rendered next Monday to the Centerville Chamber of Commerce.

This word was relayed to the chamber this week by Secretary LeRoy Broun. The report had been requested last month.

The Danube River, which has its source in the Black Forest in Germany, is approximately 1725 miles long.

GARBAGE LAW AIM OF TOWNSHIP C.C.

Compulsory garbage service for the Township was advocated Monday before the Township Chamber of Commerce.

Gordon Cotton, of Newark, repeated a suggestion that local sanitary districts could operate a central garbage dump to eliminate refuse dumping on roadsides.

He said a conversation with Al Gamba of Niles, operator of a private refuse-collection service, brought an offer from Gamba "to pay a franchise to the districts if they'd force collections."

Manuel Hidalgo, of Decoto, said his sanitary board "is 100 per cent behind" such a suggestion.

Chamber President Maurice Marks ordered a letter written to State health officials to determine what steps would have to be taken.

Cape Alva, at the northernmost extremity of the Olympic Peninsula, is the most westerly point in the United States.

Phone Taxes High

Excise taxes on telephone use will cost Niles subscribers about $1,545 this month, S. D. Smith, Pacific Telephone manager at Hayward, reported today.

There is a 15 per cent Federal tax on local telephone service. On long-distance calls costing less than 25 cents the tax is 15 per cent, and it is 25 per cent on long distance calls costing 25 cents or more.

DEMOCRATS NAME 2 MORE ADVISORS

Two more Township residents have been elected to the advisory board of the Washington Township Democratic Club.

The club, meeting in the high school, elected Charles Russell, businessman from Niles, and Mrs. Thomas J. Power, member of a pioneer Centerville family, to the board. They will serve as advisors with Judge E. A. Quaresma of Niles.

Russell, a contractor who graduated from local schools, is treasurer of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Mrs. Power helped organize the first Democratic club here in 1932 and is a former national committee woman, the first woman to hold the post from this area.

The club also acted to set up an Invitation committee, headed by Roby W. Pierce, Niles, to seek active participation in club affairs from other organization members.

Secretary Mrs. Gayle Stepp reported that Supervisor Chester E. Stanley had replied to a request for permission to use the county building and that club representatives would meet with him to work out details.

A resolution on the bay crossing controversy was tabled upon the recommendation of a committee report given by Raymond L. Marsh, Hillview Crest attorney, who said that legislation has been passed to pave the way for a southern span.

CHILDREN'S FOSTER CARE SERVICE IS SUPPORTED BY UNITED CRUSADE FUNDS

(First in a series on local work performed by United Crusade agencies. The crusade drive opens here in October)

This is the story of Freddie, an eight-year-old boy, but doesn't have an ending yet. Somebody living in the Niles-Centerville area is wanted by the Children's Foster Care Services, a United Crusade agency, to help write a happy conclusion to the story.

Freddie is tall for his age, nice looking and neat, but he is mentally slow. His speech is halting, partly because he has nobody to work with him and help him learn.

Sometimes Freddie is angry and aggressive in a world that seems too much for him. But he responds well to attention and affection. He even likes to be teased, kidded in a friendly way. Freddie needs to have someone who will like him as he is, and make him be with people who accept and feel wanted and self-confident and happy.

Without such people to provide a foster home for him, Freddie could be a problem to himself and to society all his life. With such a home, he could be a self-respecting and productive citizen.

The story of Freddie could end two ways. Children's Foster Care Services wants a couple or a family in the Niles-Centerville area to help make it end happily by providing a foster home for Freddie. They feel he would adjust best to living and attending school in a rural area such as this.

Any one interested in providing a home for Freddie or any other child should call Children's Foster Care Services, 4368 Lincoln Avenue, Oakland, ANdover 1-9962.

This United Crusade agency is always looking for foster homes for boys and girls who have none of their own. The agency pays for board and care of the child, and provides medical care and clothing . . . all through funds you contribute to the East Bay United Crusade.

NILES BANK NEW PHONE PAY OFFICE

Commencing August 10, the Central Bank at Niles will become the new payment agency for Niles telephone bills, it was announced today by S. D. Smith, manager for Pacific Telephone Company.

Smith emphasized, however, that mail payments should continue to be sent to the Pacific Telephone Company, P. O. Box 510, Hayward.

Smith also brought out that on matters other than the payment of bills, customers should contact the company's business office in Hayward as in the past, either in person or by asking the operator for the business office. Calls to the business office may be placed to the business office without toll charge.

Every third employee owns part of Standard

Meet Forrest Dickinson, a driller from Whittier, California—and one of the owners of Standard Oil Company of California. Forrest is bringing up three youngsters, buying a home, and is also building a family nest egg by investing in his Company through Standard's stock ownership plan. Forrest and other Standard Oilers who are 35 or older and have 5 years of service, may, if they wish, invest a portion of their pay in Standard shares. The Company assists by contributing a percentage of its net profit to the stock ownership plan. Thus, in addition to salary and employee benefits, Forrest shares Company earnings in two ways: through Standard's contributions to his stock purchases, and through dividends on stock. Nearly 95% of all eligible employees now participate in this plan. While several thousand previously had invested in Company shares on their own, 12,000 of a total 34,750 Standard Oilers are now shareholders. This means, of course, that better than one out of every three people who work for Standard also own Standard. That's why Standard Oilers work harder to serve you better—after all, it's their business, too.

There's No Such Thing as a "typical" Standard shareholder. More than 115,000 individuals and couples from all levels of life own Standard.

Small Businesses and large believe in us, too, because our records show that 1,889 firms own shares of Standard Oil Company of California stock.

244 Churches and religious organizations, 165 hospitals and medical groups, and 293 universities and schools own part of Standard.

Standard's Owners are, mainly, thousands of average everyday people, most of them Westerners. Their Company's management is wholly independent. Standard Oil Company of California is neither owned nor controlled by any of the Standard companies in the East. *Questions or comments about our Company are always welcome. Rotary Speaker

Need for a family counseling service in this area was cited last week before the Niles Rotary Club by Miss Julia Minor, executive director of the Council of Southern Alameda County Communities.

Miss Minor said the lack of such service is a serious drawback here. She illustrated her plea by explaining how those who need specialized, expert advice on social problems have been rehabilitated by similar programs elsewhere.

No such guidance is available nearer than Oakland, she added.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chairman Paul Shipman.

NEWARK GETS NEW PG&E EQUIPMENT

New voltage-regulator equipment to improve electrical service in Newark was installed this week by the PG&E.

District Manager Peter D. Juhl said the equipment will help the company give better service at the ends of the lines. The town now has 4000-volt equipment. Juhl said that within the forseeable future, 12,000-volt lines will be installed.

Light for Thornton

President Romeo Brunelli of the local chamber of commerce reported State Highway surveys are under way, and that these have a good chance to result in the light, with the further possibility that a pedestrian-controlled stop-signal will be installed.

Brunelli said results of the survey will be known shortly.

Niles Girl Beats Mere Males at Wheel of Speedy British Racer

By STUART NIXON

Maybe you don't think of auto racing as a ladies' game, but one Niles girl has invaded the field with considerable success.

She is Margery Wilson, 26, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Wilson, of Niles—Mission Highway, whose low-slung MG roadster bears the shining trophies of a dozen race-meets where she bested the rougher sex.

Margery came by sports-car racing honestly. Her father is widely known in Coast racing circles for his handsome British Jaguar, and his perennial enthusiasm for something faster than the ordinary.

Two years ago Margery bought her own MG, started tuning it up for races. She learned how to "corner," to control the sturdy little car under tough road conditions.

Then a year ago she captured her first win: the Lake County Hill Climb. Next she won the girls' team class in the Madera Road Races.

A prized trophy came for a first place in a gruelling all-night, 12-hour "rally" last November. The cars chugged over the rugged trail behind Mt. Hamilton to Tracy, then through the Mother Lode.

Last month Margery won the Class F ribbon in Stockton. And last week she teamed up with two other young enthusiasts to take the unusual "sparkplug relay" at Volcano. This consisted of switching sparkplugs during the race, then switching them twice again.

Margery handles most of her own repairs and maintenance work on the MG. She strips the car herself for racing, then puts it together again to drive it to her week-day job with a pipe company in San Leandro.

"It's wonderful in traffic," she says.

Her father, familiarly known as Doc, doesn't race himself, but he isn't above a solo speed trial. Last year, for instance, he drove the "Jag" from a ranch he owns near Denver to Elko—830 miles—in 12 hours. He has put 35,000 miles on the sportster in two years.

Dr. Wilson this week swapped his green "jag" for a silver-and-scarlet Aston-Martin coupe, an.. ..even more streamlined model.

Now, most of Margery's Sundays, and some Saturdays too, are spent at Hayward Airport, where a growing club of young men and women gather to service and spruce up their sports cars, to chat about cylinder displacement and imported wire wheels.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE RIGHT MEN

This is an open letter to our representatives in the State Legislature, Senator Arthur Breed Jr., of Oakland; and Assemblyman Francis Dunn Jr., also of Oakland.

This part of the State wants to know, gentlemen, when the State intends to complete the Eastshore Freeway.

We know only this: that there are no funds budgeted even to buy the rights-of-way to finish the 14-mile stretch between Mt. Eden and Warm Springs.

But we also know this: traffic conditions through Southern Alameda County are becoming insupportable. With completion of each Freeway segment, more cars were funneled on us. Our streets are clogged with speeding cars, they are crumpling under the pounding of heavy trucks.

And we know this too: the State passed a heavy increase in the gasoline tax last month, and earmarked it for highway construction. We feel this increase every time we fill our gas tanks. What we want to know is, when does construction start?

One other thing we know: before construction can start, the land over which the Freeway is to travel must be bought by the State.

Centerville's Chamber of Commerce wrote the Division of Highways, asked when the rights-of-way would be purchased. The answer was, the Highway Commission determines that, and it hasn't determined it for the Eastshore link—at least not this year.

Now we don't know anyone on the State Highway Commission. But we know you gentlemen, at least we see you when election time rolls around. We are aware that you control the commission's purse-strings. And what we want to know from you is this:

1. What have you done so far to see that the Freeway is finished?

2. What do you intend to do in the coming year?

Citizens of Washington Township feel these questions deserve a straight answer. If you will write one to the Township Register, this newspaper will publish that answer in a place of prominence, so that all may see what you, our representatives, intend.

THE BAND-AID TRUCE

And so the war that was not a war ends with a truce that is not a truce.

In the three years since the North Koreans crossed the Yalta line, Americans have learned some new angles about fighting a war. First, they learned that you sometimes stop when you're winning, give your enemy a chance to catch his breath, make the battle a little more even. Next they learned that sometimes your allies—no matter how puny their war effort—can dictate just how far you should go in winning.

In other words, we fought, for the first time in our history, a limited war. At home, we didn't like it much. It goes without saying that men who had to fight it liked it less. Without a fixed goal, without a real target to destroy, with the bitter humiliating memory of chances lost and comrades dead, the wonder is they had the heart to fight at all.

So now there's a truce, like a Band-aid on a saber-slash. The shooting will stop, but will our troops come out of Korea? Not for a long, long time. Because there still remains the threat from the Reds. We know they are reliable in their unreliability. When the shooting will start again, only they can say. We can be sure they'll say it when it suits their dark and devious ends.

If there's any consolation in all this, it's only that the casualty lists will drop for awhile. Surely, nobody will buy drinks for the house off this Band-aid Armistice. Still looking for a silver lining? Well, nobody will be in a hurry to demobilize either. And that'll be another "first" for this nation.

RIGHT UP THEIR ALLEY

The county's flood-control engineer said here last week we ought to form Zone 5, for drainage, and for control of Alameda Creek, even if Livermore and Pleasanton stay out.

We'd agree, but we'd hate to see it happen—as much for the sake of our neighbors "over the hill" as for our own. The Township needs control of storm waters, but Livermore and Pleasanton need water conservation worse. Man, it gets dry up there!

A solo effort for the Township might be the final answer. But it is also an answer that would tickle Livermore's cow barons, the tight little clique that blocked the zone last January. Split off Washington Township, and there won't be enough money "over the hill" to form a zone. That'd be right up the cattlemen's alley. They'd kill any tax-supported water measures that way, without lifting a lariat.

We hope it never comes to that. It won't, if the rest of the folks in Pleasanton and Livermore wise-up to the cow barons.

TOWNSHIP TOM : : : : : By Nixon

"Yes, I live in the Irvington Sanitary District, also the Centerville Fire District, pays taxes to the Newark School District, votes in Mission, and gets my mail from Niles. Which one of them towns am I supposed to be from?"

SUZY SEZ...

We know a certain Newark man who, after painting his house, used the left-over trim to paint the handles of his garden tools. Bright yellow makes them easy to spot if left outside, and furthermore, he is assured of their prompt return if borrowed.

Last Sunday the aroma of frying chicken floated through the air in Orchard Park, and the reason was a large yard-party where the hostess was cooking the chicken on a hot plate. She reported later that nearly every child that could walk peeked hungrily over the fence, until the guests wondered if they were on exhibit. The reason for using a hot plate, the lady reported, was that the grown-up Boy Scouts present could not get their new fire-place and barbecue to work without smoking. The results were satisfactory and she says, best of all, no smoke-grimed pans to wash.

* * * *

Another hint for chicken fryers is to let chicken stand after it is floured for 15 or 20 minutes before frying. The coating stays on the chicken, not on the skillet.

* * * *

Our favorite ten-year-old is trying to earn some money this summer by cutting 'cots. The idea is fine, but it doesn't look as though he'll earn enough for school clothes. The work sounded so simple, he was surprised that it took him so long to earn thirty-five cents.

* * * *

I thought that with the end of school the supply of corny jokes our youngsters tell would decrease, but far from it. Most of them are going through the family for the third time, and when the youngest starts bringing them home, I lose patience and furnish the punch lines before he does, thereby ruining his day.

* * * *

With summer here, and picnics the rule rather than the exception, always remember to put foil around the thermos bottle cork, and none of the various liquids will absorb flavors from a previous one.

* * * *

Many people know it, but in case you don't, try placing a cotton loop rug just inside both front and back doors. The amount of dust and dirt tracked in will be cut in half.

* * * *

It sometimes takes visitors from out of state to get longtime residents of Washington Township to see the Bay area sights. One family has lived in the Township for over seven years, yet had never gone over to see Fisherman's Wharf until last week. I don't know who was more thrilled in telling about the trip, the outsiders or my friends who have lived here so long.

* * * *

Remember, you can call yourself old when you start saying, "Now when I was a child . . ." no matter if you have barely turned thirty. Looking backward always gives the past a rosy glow it did not have.

READERS WRITE US

Editor, Sir:

With the official Centennial Program completed, and in reviewing the accomplishments of this Commission for the past two month period we find that among the outstanding functions held within our county during that time Niles "Essanay Studio Festival" of Sunday, June 7, was one of the high lights of the foregoing period. As we bring our record book to a close, we would be amiss if we did not write you and congratulate you for the most successful event of June 7, 1953.

We also extend our congratulations and thanks to all that assisted in making the festival the outstanding historical event that it was.

Again assuring you that the efforts of all connected with the above were deeply appreciated by this Commission and its members,

Centennial Commission,
Chester E. Stanley,
Chairman

MYSTERY MAN WAS BORN IN GREECE

(Our last Mystery Man was Hoyle Easley, Niles jeweler. We put the answer in the classified columns for a change, and a lot of folks didn't find it. Just shows it pays to read the classified ads.)

This week's subject was born 56 years ago in Greece, in a city nearly 4000 years old. The city in located on the island of Euboea, an island separated from the mainland by a narrow channel through which the tides race for six hours in one direction, then six hours in the other.

This man's father was in the transportation business. He carried travelers from one end of the island to the other in horse-drawn carts. Our Mystery Man took care of the horses, and thereby laid the foundations for an absorbing interest.

After graduating from school at 13, he went to work in a drygoods store for his godfather. In his spare time there was swimming, fishing and trapping birds, also trips to nearby Athens.

There was a narrow escape, too. During a civil war in Greece a naval blockade cut off bread supplies. With three friends, our man took a sailboat, started to another island to trade olive-oil for wheat. A storm arose, snapped the mast, and nearly capsized the ship. Wet and weary, they finally made port.

In 1917, jobs were opening up in America, and young Greeks started migrating to the Land of Opportunity. With 15 friends, Mr. Mystery left Greece and travelled to Canton, Ohio, where he worked in an enamel factory.

Diring the 'flu epidemic, he came to San Francisco, where he worked in a shipyard. Says he:

"When I was a boy, I always wondered how it was that a rivet had two heads and still got through that hole. Now I found out."

In 1921, he came to Niles to work on the Western Pacific's branch line to San Jose. Alex Booras, who ran a restaurant next to where the Central Bank now stands, hired him as a waiter. By 1925, our subject was in business for himself, and married to a Hayward girl whom he met in the restaurant.

He moved to his present location in 1928, built a home soon after.

His outstanding hobby is thoroughbred horse-racing, as a stable owner. An employe got him interested in the pursuit, and he never left it Once he owned as many as four horses, raced them at Bay Meadows, Seattle, Vancouver, and at the county fairs. He kept them at Pleasanton.

"They supported themselves," he says, loking back on this venture. "They also paid for my vacations, travelling with them."

Once he owned a winner with another Township businessman. But now he is horse-less.

GUESS Who?

The great blue heron attains a heighth of four feet.

FLANDERS CARNIVAL OPENS AT CURRAN

"CARNIVAL IN FLANDERS," the new musical comedy hit, starring Dolores Gray and John Raitt, will open a four-week engagement at the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, on August 3.

It will play nightly except Sundays, with matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Seats are now on sale for all performances, or can be secured by mail order.

This is the fabulous new musical comedy which is being presented by Paula Stone and Michael Sloane. It will go direct to Broadway, following its Curran engagement, as one of the first musicals of the new season there. Premiered this month in Los Angeles, "Carnival in Flanders"scored a hit with the public and the critics for its humor, romance, songs and dances.
